

Tells Of Losing Kit During Invasion Day, "Will Soon Be Over"

Two letters received recently at the home of Rev. Henry Cotton give an insight into the conditions under which Canadian soldiers landed on the coast of France. The letters are addressed to Mr. Cotton's daughter, Mrs. W. F. Armour, by her husband, Sgt. Armour, R.C.A. Randy, referred to in the letter, is Mr. Cotton's grandson.

The first letter, dated June 11, follows:

"A lot has happened since I last wrote to my family. The big invasion is on and we are right in the middle of it. I landed in France on the first day and have had no rest since. I am acting troop leader until they get another officer, besides acting as sergeant-major and my gun part time.

"I have lost everything I own except the clothes I have on and my rifle and helmet. When you send another parcel please send me some underwear, socks, handkerchiefs, towels, soap, razor blades and can you buy me a set of shaving equipment, tooth paste, a couple of tooth-brushes, a pipe, cigarettes, comb and brush and any other personal articles you can think of. I have to borrow everything when I shave, wash or eat. It is a great life.

"I landed one of the first guns for the Canadian army but it didn't do much good. Tell Randy that his Daddy isn't very brave but is in the midst of it and doing his best to get it over with. I am sitting by my fox-hole and expect to be busy soon.

The second letter is dated June 15. It follows:

"Wednesday and all's well on our front just now. It has been quiet for the past 24 hours. Only a little gun fire.

Our planes are coming and going all the time and they keep Jerry busy with ack-ack fire. This afternoon I took a bath and washed my very few clothes. The sun is very strong and most of the boys are getting a good tan.

"We got a chicken for my gun crew and had it for dinner. The boys cleaned and cooked it themselves and it was really good. I got some tooth-brushes and shaving equipment for the boys who lost everything but we still need more of everything. I lost all my snaps of you and Randy, so please send some more.

"We get the papers about four days old now and the news over the air twice a day. I suppose the Canadian papers are playing up the part we are playing on every front page. Don't worry and this thing will soon be over."

Mr. Cotton thinks that Sgt. Grant Crowder may be with the same unit.

Troops In Italy Tune In BBC To Find Out How They Are Doing

"Received your cigarettes a week ago, but haven't had much time to reply until now," L.-Bdr. Lorne McCordick writes from Italy in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "Our mail service was very poor for a while but it seems to be straightened out now and we're getting very good service (if I were superstitious I'd touch wood on that).

"Things are going great down here, but I suppose you know more about it from the papers than we do. At one time we bypassed a German strong-point in a high mountain on our flank. Being on our flank and behind the forward troops he was somewhat of a nuisance, so we used to tune in to the BBC, London, every night to find out whether the troops fighting 2,000 yards from us had scaled the mountain yet.

"I don't know whether you Vets. of the last war ever had the chance to witness Tedeschi running backwards as fast as he is now, but after being bogged down all winter it sure is a great feeling to be on the move again.

"He's leaving all sorts of equipment behind and we're getting a good chance to study them. I had a good look at one of his 88 mm. S.P.'s the other day. They are somewhat of a monstrosity—a barrel so long it has to have a prop half way up it to keep the barrel from sagging.

"It doesn't look as if we're going to suffer from any loss of fresh fruit this year. The cherries are ripe now and the pears and apples, etc., should soon be ready. There's all kinds of grape vines but I don't imagine they'll be ready until fall."

"Well, we have Jerry on the run here and I suppose in a couple of weeks he will be on the run in France," Spr. J. A. Pegg writes from Italy in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans. "Here's hoping that it will all end this year."

"It seems as though the only time I write to you is to say thanks," Sgmn. Clifford Barker writes from Italy. "I have often thought about dropping you a few lines but time passes so quickly and what little bit we do have to ourselves is taken up with entertainment or sports."

"I received 300 cigarettes from you the other day and believe me they were good to see. A good 'fag' is a real treat when they are scarce. Your parcel came at the 'zero hour,' as my supply of smokes was just about finished. It is hard to realize just how much they are appreciated and it is impossible to explain it fully enough on paper.

"The weather in this country now is very nice. It gets fairly hot during the day but always cools off at night, which makes it swell for sleeping.

"The natural scenery of the country at present is picturesque. The mountains in the distance are lovely and green with trees, while down in the valley you look upon a golden field of grain, with here and there a field of green. Seeing Italy at this particular time is a treat and lately I have seen a lot of it but hope to see more before heading for Canada.

"I have met a number of town fellows over here but things are moving so quickly that you only get together about once or twice.

"The situation in this country looks very hopeful and there isn't anyone not looking for the day to return to 'Civvy Street.'"

SGT. TOM DUDLEY, NEWMARKET CAMP TOP COOK, HAS ADVENTURE-FILLED LIFE IN SERVICES

"I've been that sergeant many a time since I came to Italy. If he had not fed us good when we were at Newmarket, maybe I would appreciate the grub that we get here more," wrote a soldier serving in Italy in a recent letter to a member of Newmarket military camp. It is a backhanded compliment to the camp's cook, Staff-Sgt. Tom Dudley, who can claim merit as a deep sea diver, inventor, veteran of two other wars and who is serving actively in this war as a master cook. He does such a good job that this camp would feel lost and hungry without him. He is never so happy as when he sees the men enjoying their meals and coming up for second helpings. He has a loyal staff of workers under him.

Staff Sgt. Dudley served in the South African campaign and fought against Gen. Smuts in 1900. It intrigues him to think that in 1917 Gen. Smuts was his own commanding officer in the East African campaign. In 1931 Sgt. Dudley was invited to meet the present field marshal.

Tom served 13 years in the royal navy where he learned his diving. While serving in this capacity he has had several adventures, including fouling a liner working in freezing temperatures, one time almost submerged in sand, an encounter with an octopus off the coast of Ceylon where the danger was supposed to be sharks, diving in crocodile infested waters and many jobs involving the recovery of drowned victims. He was also engaged in the raising of the German fleet in Scapa Flow. Among his prizes, possessing a tin pin presented to him by the Sultan of Zanzibar in appreciation of his work of raising the sultan's yacht. The pin is of jade and is made up of 272 pieces, not large but beautiful when viewed through a magnifying glass. The sultan was wearing the pin at the time and took it from his tie and gave it to the sergeant.

Another prized possession is a certificate signed by Winston Churchill when the prime minister was secretary of state for war. The document signed in March 1919 certifies that Sgt. Dudley was mentioned in dispatches for gallantry in the field. His period of service in the last war began immediately after he was demobilized. He arrived in England from Canada on Aug. 8, 1914, and was loaned immediately to the Royal Engineers, landing in France on Aug. 17. Here his special task was blowing up bridges to help cover the retreat from Mons. After serving in France he was sent to the Ypres salient where he lost partial sight of an eye and was discharged from the royal navy. Later he joined the Royal Engineers and was sent to Egypt for blockade work on the Suez Canal. In East Africa he did more bridge blowing and was wounded in the shoulder, captured by the Hun and spent eleven months in prison camp. While in camp he contracted blackwater fever and as they thought he was going to die the Hun kicked him out.

It was at this point that he turned to cooking. He took a course at Nairobi, East Africa, and qualified as a cook instructor. He was sent to the 17th South African General Hospital at Dar-Es-Salaam. The hospital accommodated 9,000 patients. Under him the sergeant had three hundred cooks and kitchen helpers.

Tom wears the meritorious service medal, the queen's and the King's star, the general service medal, the victory medal, with oak leaf denoting mention in dispatches, and the ribbon issued for this present war.

When Newmarket camp was opened for the 30 day trainees, Tom Dudley was one of the cooks. He soon became known for his culinary art and administrative ability, and is now in charge of all that goes on in the kitchens. And the food! It is so good that the men say this is the best fed camp anywhere.

Tom has an invention that he is proud of. It is a dust proof, fly proof, sanitary self-locking milk-bottle holder. It keeps milk bottles away from roving animals. A feature of the invention is a house number plate. "Town street numbers are usually too small to read properly from the road," he says, so he made his invention incorporate a solution of this need. There is also a department for butter and a loaf of bread.

In camp the sergeant has initiated what is a very popular feature of the camp's training. He lectures each troop on a soldier's 24-hour ration. One special result of the lecture is that each man becomes food conscious. He begins to see that there is a special and proper balance given to each day's meals to ensure proper health, and on the other hand he realizes what he is entitled to and sees that waste will hurt everyone.

NAVY WINS IN DOMINION DAY SOFTBALL TILT

(Twenty-Three This Week)

The first of July is now history, but it remains a day to remember and a memory to conjure with. Proceedings were officially opened with a march past by the camp personnel led by the No. 2 District Depot band and followed by armored fighting vehicles and motorcyclists from Camp Borden.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales of Newmarket took the salute at the saluting base. With him were Lieut.-Col. N. M. Young, V.D., commanding officer of No. 23, Lieut.-Col. E. G. Reade, Camp Borden, who had recently returned from Italy.

During the afternoon the athletic meet produced some truly fine contests. Paced by LAC Morten, one of Canada's greatest distance runners, the R.C.A.F. led in points scored with 41. Newmarket camp gained second place with 34 points, followed by the navy and Nos. 3, 2 and 1 C.A.C.T.R., Camp Borden, in that order.

Morten's victories in the one mile and three mile races were the stand-out events but by no means did he have things his own way. Tprs. Cameron and Sullivan of No. 23 stayed with him all the way and made a stretch run of it. O'Brien of the navy proved to be the "fastest human" when he won both the 100 and 220-yard sprints. Chasing him in the 100 were Cpl. J. Life and Lieut. J. Holmes in that order. This was the first time the Newmarket corporal had defeated the Camp Borden officer.

Tprs. Stephens of No. 23 played a sensational second in the 220 to beat the flying airman, Cpl. Dufresne. In a driving finish Fil-Sgt. Dymont nosed out Lt.-Cpl. McKendry of Newmarket to take the 440-yard race. The airforce also cleaned up in the half mile. Cpl. Dinnis, in winning, ran one of the fastest halves in the history of armed forces competition.

Newmarket and the R.C.A.F. fought stubbornly for many hours. The airforce took the 100-yard shuttle relay but lost both the 880-yard and the one-mile relays to their Newmarket rivals.

Competition was keen in all field events, with some excellent jumping and throwing taking place. Four teams entered the elimination softball tournament, namely Navy, R.C.A.F., A33 Camp Borden, and No. 23. Pitching duels featured the playing, with some unusually close scores deciding the issues. R.C.A.F. nosed out Newmarket in the opener 2-1. McLeod with his American style of hurling had the Newmarket boys somewhat baffled but showed no superiority over pitcher Moon, who held the R.C.A.F. scoreless until the last of the seventh inning, when a home run broke up the bats' game.

With the veteran "Hilly" Lang pitching for them, Navy defeated A33 in the second game 8-1. In the final play-off between the two winners, Navy and R.C.A.F., the rival pitchers dominated the scene. The final score after seven hard-fought innings was 1-0 for Lang and the Navy over McLeod and his Airforce.

Boxing fans were given a chance to see two of Canada's outstanding professional fighters in the persons of L.-Cpl. "Baby" Yack of Simcoe and Tpr. Leon Wadsworth of Newmarket. A large crowd of fight followers notably greeted these favorites. In addition, novices bards pleased the fans with fast, hard-fought titanic bouts.

Sport fans were not the complete show. Through the generous permission of Lieut.-Col. E. G. Reade of A33 Camp Borden a motorcycle "musical ride" was presented. The skillful riding of the members of this team drew rounds of applause from the large audience. Also on display were tanks and other AFV's from Camp Borden.

A P.T. demonstration under the direction of Sgt. Peterson of Newmarket made a tremendous impression on those who packed the grandstand to see it. The applause was unusually enthusiastic and made the men who demonstrated feel mightily happy about their efforts.

Give Soldiers Leave, Farm Need Critical, Representative Says

"Farm labor has never been as scarce as this year. At a time when York county and most of the largest crops of hay and grain in prospect," Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket, said this week. "Not only is farm help scarce but the average farmer is showing the effects of the strain and is not as able to carry on as he was three years ago."

"The farmers of Canada have increased their production 40 percent since the start of the war with about 30 percent less help, not having had the chance to build up their payrolls as has industry. In the meantime, of the 75,000 men in the reserve army or home defence army there are thousands of experienced farm workers who are no longer needed for defence and who to date have not been designated for active service reinforcements."

"York county council is to be congratulated on passing a resolution at their concluding session on Friday demanding that the authorities at Ottawa take these farm lands be given 60 days farm leave to help save this valuable crop from spoiling in the fields while they 'mark time' in their respective camps. The agricultural committee of the county council was authorized to take every step possible to secure the release of these men who included on the prairies later on."

"Arrangements have been made through the Federation of Agriculture for a delegation to meet some of the cabinet ministers concerned at Ottawa and in the meantime the Federations of Agriculture have endorsed the movement and are insistent that the farmer be given some consideration."

"The supply of western harvesters has been most disappointing and when the agricultural representative received word last Friday that York county's quota would be not over 25 westerners to fill nearly 100 applications the seriousness of the situation prompted him to propose this alternative move to county council. Apparently all the westerners are now here and 17 farmers have obtained a man, these being the most urgent cases." The delegation to interview the minister consists of H. H. Han-nam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, V. S. Milburn, secretary, Ontario Federation of Agriculture, Boynton Weld-rick, Thornhill, and W. L. Clark, Gormley, chairman and secretary respectively of the agricultural committee of York county council, and W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative, Newmarket.

This is the resolution passed by York county council:

"Whereas the farmers of Ontario are faced with the harvesting of one of the largest crops of hay and grain on record with the greatly reduced manpower available,

"And whereas there has been a very disappointing response by farm laborers of western Canada to requests of national selective service for western harvest help to come to Ontario,

"And whereas there is a large potential labor pool being held by the military authorities in the reserve units embracing many experienced farm workers not at present being used, for overseas reinforcements,

"And whereas the farmers of York county alone require approximately 500 harvest workers,

"Be it resolved that the council of the corporation of the county of York authorize the agricultural committee of this council to make immediate demand of the proper authorities for the granting of at least 60 days leave to experienced workers to save the crops so vital to the national war effort and the individual farmer and that in view of the urgency of the situation such leave be effective not later than July 10.

"And further that the agricultural committee be authorized to make such representation as deemed advisable through the Federation of Agriculture immediately and if necessary arrange for such meetings or delegations as may be necessary to present effectively and immediately the plight of our farmers at this time."

WANTED - - A PLACE TO SWIM

Oh for a swimming-pool now that July is here!
"About 300 swimmers a day are using the pool this week, enjoying solid comfort while the rest of us swelter," says the Fergus News-Record.
Apparently it is not too solid to dive into.
And then there is the shallow pool, which is "so crowded that there's hardly room for 'another kid to jump in.'" Seemingly, it is almost solid.
A swimming-pool is high on the priority list of Newmarket youngsters. What a contribution a swimming-pool would make to the health of Newmarket's younger folk!

NO HARM ASKING

A few years ago, when the Ontario department of highways was not particularly interested, municipalities from Peterboro to Orangeville, including Newmarket and Aurora, were holding meetings and trying to work up interest in a Sarnia to Ottawa highway. That highway never got any farther west than the Hon. Gordon Conant's Ontario county constituency. It stopped at Uxbridge.
Now the department is interested in this part of the country. The minister of highways has made statements indicating that the department is interested in a provincial highway to Lake Simcoe and in another highway to Barrie, between Yonge St. and No. 20 highway. But now we who live in Newmarket and Aurora are not interested.
Probably the minister of highways would be glad to meet a deputation from Aurora, Newmarket and Sutton. He would be glad probably to hear some ideas from the residents of these centres on how his proposed new highways could satisfy district needs as well as providing through routes to Muskoka and Haliburton.

Perhaps these proposed new highways could run close to Newmarket and Aurora. If they are going to pass our towns widely by, perhaps the department would be interested in linking these towns with the new north and south highways and linking them with each other, by completing the east-west Peterboro-Orangeville highway.
There could come nothing but good from discussing this matter with the minister.

THEY MEAN WELL

There seems to be misunderstanding between Ottawa and Toronto. The federal budget lifts compulsory savings so that, we are told, men will be willing to work over-time. At the same time the provincial government brings into force a new act to prevent men from working more than nine hours in a day or 48 hours in a week, although apparently the act is going to be suspended for many industries.
Both governments are trying to help the workman. The federal government will not help him, however, if by putting more money into circulation it causes more inflation. In spite of price ceilings there is already much inflation. Inferior goods are just as much inflation as higher prices.
Nor will the provincial government help those workmen who are reasonably paid for their overtime.
Our governments should get together. Instead of lifting the compulsory savings, Mr. Itley could have taken means to make people think money so lent to the government is as patriotical-ly employed and as well invested as if put into Victory bonds. Instead of preventing men and women from working over-time, Premier Drew might have helped them more by seeing that they are adequately paid for such over-time as they choose to do.
The new Ontario act, however, will be useful when the war is over. It will give many people a little leisure, make them more efficient in their jobs, and will make more jobs. It will also be hoped that the increased efficiency (greater production) and the increased employment (greater purchasing power) will together make possible more wages for the shorter hours.

SAYS SUNDAY TEACHER SHOULD SET EXAMPLE

By REV. R. R. McMAITH

The fifty-fourth annual convention of the township of Whitchurch Sunday-schools was held in the Union church at Vivian, on Tuesday, June 27. The first session was convened with Rev.
Rowan, pastor of the convention church, conducting devotions.
He struck a fine note for the day's deliberations when he suggested that in addition to superintendent, teachers, etc., some deserved to be called "helps." Everyone can help. "You in your small corner and I in mine."
The representation at the morning session was rather small and so once more the good news falls to the interested few.
Roy Fockler, superintendent of the Vivian Sunday-school, spoke a few words of welcome to the delegates. He told of what delight he and his staff found in placing at the disposal of the convention the facilities of their church.

The president of the convention, Mrs. Elma Starr, replied to the address of welcome and conducted the sessions.
There are 13 schools in the territory within the bounds of the convention and William Paisley, Bethesda school, reported on the teaching of temperance in 11 of them. A very fine record was shown in this department. Recognition was taken of the fact of one boy in the district having won the oratorical contest.

William Yake, Gormley, reported on the boys' work. He told of his difficulty in contacting leaders by mail, since they didn't answer his correspondence.
Then he sought to contact them personally. He spoke of the difficulties the leaders faced and of their attempt to overcome them, and he prophesied a better year in 1944. The high water mark of the morning discussion was an address by the Rev. C. E.
Moddle, Aurora, on the theme of the convention, "Co-operation between the Sunday-school and the home."

The speaker had many valuable suggestions as to how the home could help the school and likewise many suggestions as to how the school could help the home. He carried the approval of every delegate when he suggested that no Sunday-school teacher had a right to expect any parents to send their children to Sunday-school when the character of the teacher was not such as to command the respect of both parents and children.
Hence it behoves every teacher to be blameless in character.
The whole address is to be mimeographed and distributed.
After the selection of a nominating committee the morning session closed with a brief silence and a prayer by the president.

A devotional period conducted by the Rev. F. G. Huston, Gormley, opened the afternoon session, following which the president presented her annual report. Jacob M. Grove, who has filled the office of secretary-treasurer for 25 years, presented his report showing a balance in the treasury.

Report on girls' work was given by Mrs. Orval Drewery.
She had a full report from all 13 schools and she urged a further interest by the girls and their leaders in the girls' camps.
Rev. Norman Rowan reported on the advance in religious instruction in the public schools.
He and two other members of the clergy cover every school in the township and he gave evidence of how popular the scheme is with both teachers and pupils.

The address of the afternoon was given by the Rev. Mr.
Grosse of Long Branch United church. He was present on behalf of the Ontario Religious Education Council and spoke on "the home as an agency of education." He had a large exhibition of literature and books which are widely used in the development of boy and girl life and which play a large part in the directing of home worship.

New officers were installed in the evening as follows: honorary president, Percy Forester, Luskay; president, Mrs. Rob. Flyer, Stouffville, R. R. 2; secretary, Wm.
Paisley, Stouffville, R. R. 4; children's division, Mrs. Fred Yake, Unionville, R. R. 1; girls' division, Mrs. Orval Drewery, Stouffville, R. R. 2; boys' division, Wm. Yake, Gormley, R. R. 1; young people's division, Earl Grosse, Mount Albert, R. R. 3; adult division, Leo Wagg, Stouffville, R. R. 2; missionary division, Frank Harvey, Gormley; temperance division, Mrs. Elma Starr, R. R. 3, Newmarket; home and visitation division, Mrs. Bert Dike, R. R. 3, Newmarket.

With interest sustained to the end of the final session, the convention was spoken of as a "mountain-top" experience in the history of the Whitchurch Township Sunday-school Association.
All 13 Sunday-schools in the township were represented and sent reports.
Much of the success of the day was credited to Jacob M. Grove, Hingwood, who retired as secretary-treasurer after 24 years of service.

Morley D. McPhee, who has been stationed at Newmarket training centre, has been discharged for health reasons, and has resumed his duties as manager of the Strand theatre, Newmarket.

THE COMMON ROUND STORM

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

There is something frightening, to me at any rate, in the relentless march of great storm clouds across the sky. They seem to move with the purposeful advance of some evil army, alien to man with their thunderous artillery, roaring in advance and their murderous fire shooting forth at intervals.
My father loved these storms.
Fascinated, he would watch their advance, attack and retreat, and often wanted me to share his vigil, but always I retreated to the room farthest from the point of the storm's advance, and there, all the great passages of sacred and secular literature relating to storms would ride rampant through my head.

Now, I am ashamed of my cowardice and I try to make myself imagine what it would be like to be in France, or Italy, or Russia—somewhere in the path of the armies that with move and counter-move are deciding the fate of the world.

Perhaps near the great army preparatory camps where manoeuvres can be seen and rifle practice heard, one can more easily visualize war, but in the serenity of the beautiful countryside war of necessity must seem far away and unreal unless we cultivate the mind's eye.

I was reading an article the other night which implied that we Canadians have nothing distinctly Canadian to distinguish us from the rest of the world; no dish that is ours and ours alone; no particular brand of humor; nothing of which it can be said: "That was as Canadian as Canada." Well, maybe that's so, and we are just a sensible, hard-working people—not a bad thing to be, by the way—but we must have dreamers and idealists or we would not be crusading against the forces of evil; we must be idealists or we would not have our present standards of living and education. Both of these fall far short of perfection, for to those who put education near the top of the necessities of life, the salaries which in the past have been paid our educators were something to make us bury our heads in shame or to get out and vote for someone who would remedy the situation.

The war has taken a hand in this as in many other things, and the wide margin between supply and demand is doing what most of us felt should have been done long since, but which was always left to the other fellow and so never was done at all.
Our standards of living do not need the storm of war to make us aware of what needed raising, but it has made us value what we have and given us a much needed lesson in caring for what we have. The other day after the storm struck us and we saw the destruction wrought on peonies, delphinium and roses, we started to complain, and then the thought struck us, "What if it had been a real blitz—what if we had looked at our home lowered to the ground, and maybe a loved one buried beneath the debris—and even if no human lay beneath, the treasured collection of a lifetime was gone.

And speaking of those same delphinium—every year, as they grow tall and fat, we resolve to give them support, and every year the winds blow and the rains beat down, and the del-phiniums GO down and THEN we try to repair that damage.

Maybe that's the way with war, we see the causes which make for war growing before our very eyes. We talk about what should be done and know what could be done, but like us with our delphiniums, we hope for the best, and the steps, the guards, the efficient opposition to an evil thing, whose growth was apparent and whose evil inevitable was opposed too late to quench the evil at its source.

There remains what always follows a storm—especially the storm of war—the salvage of the scattered and oppressed peoples and their homes. As the war moves on, we cannot think it is won until children are fed, homes set up and fragments—alas, only fragments—of families re-united.

This is not for governments alone—we are ALL responsible, we can ALL help to repair the destruction wrought by the storm of war.

J. W. RYNARD RETIRES AFTER LONG SERVICE

Many people gathered in Zephyr Community hall to honor their two retiring teachers, Miss Ruth Hancock and J. W. Rynard, on Thursday evening, at the end of the school term.

The chairman was A. S. Arnold. A short program consisted of choruses, piano instrumentals, vocal solos and a reading of "The Village Schoolmaster" by Lee McLeod.

T. R. Ferguson, Mr. Rynard's inspector for 30 years, spoke a few words in appreciation of both teachers.

The new inspector, J. R. Pickering, was also called upon to speak.

Mr. Arnold introduced to the audience Mr. Bamford, the new minister in Zephyr.

Miss Hancock was then presented with a silver-plated flower bowl by Keith Profit, representing her pupils. The address was read by Shirley Pickering.

Mr. and Mrs. Rynard were called to the front and Bruce Kester presented Mr. Rynard with an inscribed wallet, inside of which was a cash gift from the school section. Reta Horner read an address.

"It has been said, 'The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world,' and it is equally true of the teaching profession which lays the foundation for the education of our youths and plays no small part in the destiny of our nation," she said. "No small part of your success has been due to your worthy help-mate, Mrs. Rynard, who has kept the home, prepared your lunches and kept you generally fit."

In reply Mr. Rynard stated: "When people die, everybody heaps flowers on the grave, but I agree with the author that flowers should be given to the living because the dead cannot read the inscription. You have now given flowers to the living."

Lunch was served by the ladies and a social half-hour was enjoyed.

NAVY WINS

Lieut. F. J. White's precision squad from Newmarket brought continuous expressions of admiration from the assembled throng. It was a masterpiece of soldiering. A sparkling vaudeville show was presented before the grandstand. Margene, Canada's lady magician, complete with top hat and rabbit, held the audience mystified with her smooth act.

The Whirligoes, an attractive young couple on roller skates, performed some hair-raising stunts on a small area, and caused a lot of amusement by whirling members of the audience around. A high light was the acrobatic team of 12 men from No. 4 troop who put on a thrilling display of tumbling with Cpl. Pucini as their maestro. Tomma Buck and Ivy Bullock with their snappy songs and dances were great favorites with the crowd.

The day was climaxed with a dance in the drill hall. Excellent music was supplied by the orchestra from A33 Camp Borden. And at the end of a long and full day everyone went home mighty happy and somewhat tired.

On Tuesday the camp handball team lost to Morse Jewellers at Earls Court park in Toronto 2-6 in a Congress Baseball League fixture. Poor work in the field behind the good pitching of Rudderham cost us the game.

On Friday night we defeated Hagersville 4-1 at Newmarket in a game which was called at the end of the sixth inning on account of darkness. The playing of Rudderham, Callanan and Palsky stood out.

The camp soccer team dropped a tough one to Slovaks 1-0 after a hard fight. It was anybody's game right up until the final whistle. In an exhibition game at Camp Borden our soccer team defeated the Ordnance team from that centre 2-1. The soccer team is now rapidly rounding into shape under the strict supervision of the Flicker, who when interviewed, stated: "If only the army would leave the recruits long enough in our hands, I could organize an unbeatable team."

IN MEMORIAM

Andrews-In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Charley A. Andrews, who passed away one year ago, July 5, 1913.

We watched her suffer day by day. It caused us bitter grief. To see her slowly give away. And could not give relief. Her weary hours and days of pain. Her troubled nights are passed. And in our aching hearts we know She has found sweet rest at last. God knows how much we miss her. He counts the tears we shed. And whispers, "Hush, she only sleeps. Your loved one is not dead."

Sadly missed by husband and family.

Cutting-In cherished remembrance of our dear father, John Cutting, who passed away on July 9, 1939.

Time speeds on, five years have passed. Since death its gloom, its shadows cast. Within our home where all seemed bright. And took from us a shining light; We miss that light and ever will. His vacant place there's none can fill. Down here we mourn, but not in vain. For up in heaven we will meet again.

Lovingly remembered by Janey and Ambrose.

Hoare-In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Frederick Hoare, who died July 10, 1913.

He is gone but not forgotten. And, as dawn another year. In our lonely hours of thinking. Thoughts of him are always near.

Days of sadness will come o'er us. Friends may think the wound is healed. But they little know the sorrow That lies within the heart concealed.

Ever remembered by wife, son and daughters.

is to make out the diet sheets for the meals. This he does in a scientific way from a calorie and vitamin chart that hangs in his office. It is his pride that his sheets provide for meals that give 4,300 to 4,500 calories a day to the men, sufficient he says, for commando training.

The problem of feeding the army is a much different thing to what it used to be, Tom says. There is different purchasing and different cooking. He speaks of getting two pieces of hard tack and a cup of tea and on the strength of this marching 14 miles trekking a 47 gun. "In those days, it was made with bully beef and a few cans of peas and salt pork," Tom remembers.

Tom's pride centres particularly on the cold meats that are made in camp under his supervision. Dvr. G. Bardeoz and Dvr. R. K. Rice do this work. In the making of these cooked meats all that is bought are a few spices and casings, the rest is army ration. This is the source of much pride for the sergeant, making as it does for such variety in the camp meals. "In those days, included in his cold meats were: farmer sausage, smoked ham, virginia ham, vискin cased ham, jellied hocks, head cheese, peameal bacon, corned beef, liverwurst, macaroni and meat loaf and bologna. He has pickles galore.

Sgt. Dudley was born in England and came to Canada in 1911. He married in 1919 and is very proud of his family. One boy, Kenneth, has been overseas for three years in the armored corps. This lad joined the militia at 15 years of age and was a sergeant in the militia in the Governor General's Horse Guard. He transferred to the fifth armored regiment and went overseas from Camp Borden. Jack is in the air force training to be a pilot. Gordon is in the naval cadets. There is a younger girl at home. The sergeant says his wife would be in the C.W.A.C. if she could. She does her work in the church and social activities. They have their home in Toronto.

opposition to the boys from No. 23 this year.
 Advice to the kids: You youngsters who are taking up hardball this year, as well as some of the oldsters, might well remember an axiom of hitting recommended by Mel Ott of the Giants, present home king. Ott points out that the main power in baseball or golf if you are a right-handed hitter comes from the right leg—the back leg, and conversely if you are a left-handed hitter. You must swing or hit from the back foot or back leg and keep most of your weight there through most of the swing. One of the main trouble-spots for ball players and golfers is getting the weight too far forward ahead of time. It is only human to want to blast the ball in either sport and the tendency is to throw the weight forward to the front leg and let the body take charge. This action locks the power supposed to be delivered by hands and wrists or hands and arms.

C.A.C. softball is just about at the half-way mark and as the teams go down the home stretch the issue is in doubt all along the No. 3 C.A.C.T.R. and No. 2 are tied for the top with five wins and one loss. No. 3 gave No. 2 its only loss to date, while Newmarket handed the No. 3 team their lone set-back. No. 2 appear logical leaders, as they are likely to retain 3 are long many of their best players. T. and S. Wing are sitting in the third spot and are almost certain for a play-off spot.

From there on the picture changes. No. 1 C.A.C.T.R. and T.S.R. are bunched and both have in and out teams liable to upset anybody. Strange as it may seem, the two basic training centres are bringing up the rear. Both are likely to get out now or quit it quits. There have been several postponed games. The standing at the end of June was as follows.

No. 3 C.A.C.T.R.	6	5	1
No. 2 C.A.C.T.R.	6	5	1
T. and S. Wing	4	3	1
No. 1 C.A.C.T.R.	5	2	3
T.S.R.	6	2	4
Newmarket	5	1	4
Quillia	1	1	5

The first four teams make the claimed circle. Take your choice, gent.

Trained soldiers who meet Newmarket in a crucial two-game series this month have a dangerous aggregation who are striving hard for a play-off berth. George Martin, the catcher, and Tommy Thatcher, the pitcher, were seen in action at Newmarket last Saturday. Martin is from Toronto and Thatcher from Guelph. The infield has Al. Fricker, North Bay, 1b, Bill Pickard, Dresden, 2b, Gordy Scott, Toronto, 3b, and Leon Maynard, Windsor, ss. A Toronto trio of Bonathun, McColl and Vic Martin comprise an outfield that go get them. They are worth a look-see when they visit Newmarket.

Earl Cook, the Lemonville producer who is not having a good year on the mound for Toronto Leafs, added a new experience to his varied career last week as he was pressed into service as an umpire after Umpire Solitare had stopped a hard single from the bat of catcher Herb. Crompton of the Leafs.

Frank Popplatt, ex-Newmarket resident, now president of the Congress Baseball league, like a lot of other old-timers came to a retirement recently to try his hand at baseball and is still feeling the effects of letting mind prevail over muscles. It was in a good cause, however, as the money went to further baseball among the kids.
 Lou Walker, another Toronto ball mogul, whose home town is Bradford, also saw some action in the same game.

"Homer" Howlett, Boston Bruins star, former North York summer resident, and a member of that Keswick softball club which never did settle the Lake Simcoe softball title a few years ago against the boys from Mount Albert, is still playing fast ball and is doing well for in fact of the Toronto K-Y league.

Bernie Hodge, the colored kid who played heads-up football and hardball for Newmarket camp last summer, is now stationed with the army service corps and was a visitor at Newmarket on July 1. He expects to be transferred back to Newmarket.

Another colored kid, Gilbert Heron, of the R.C.A.F., was one of the outstanding athletes of the camp. Heron was a member of the armoured corps last year and saw combat action against the camp and Aurora Ordnance, and was a stand-out for the No. 3 soccer team in the games against Ambly Cotton's boys. Heron cracked out a homer, in the first softball game, which was sufficient to give the armies a 2-1 win over Newmarket camp.
 He took the running high jump and ran for the relay team, too.
 He expects to be discharged from the service this month, after over two years on duty. An injury in soccer last fall has resulted in water on the knee and slowed him down a bit. He is at present playing goal for the Toronto mauling depot in the soccer series in which Newmarket is entered.
 The Syd. Bowman-coached Newmarket team has not had much luck so far this season and disaster struck last week as Sgt. Bob Urquhart, the sparkplug of the No. 23 eleven and one of the best backs in Canada, suffered a broken ankle.

Cpl. George, another sturdy performer, sustained a similar injury and the team is hurt prosed for experienced players right now but determined to carry on.

Oreheads go to Capt. Tom George, Newmarket's doughy sports officer, and all those associated with him on July 1. They did a great job in getting that event went off as scheduled. S.S.M. Alex. Stewart looked after the track, Lieut. Bert Kennedy, the softball, and R.S.M.
 Farrell, the boxing. From Lieut.
 Col. N. M. Young down to the lowest ranked, everybody cooperated to the full, and, of course, that old-time committee of Harry Lambert, Frank Courtney, Stan.
 Smith, Fred Thompson, George Byers, Frank Bowser, Bert Morris-son, Jimmy Walker, Bob Peters and others whom we omit through ignorance rather than intent.

LOWER COSTS MEAN HIGHER PROFITS

Mr. Farmer:

You'll agree that every dollar saved in feeding costs means another dollar in profits to you!

SHUR-GAIN FEED SERVICE undoubtedly saves you dollars in feeding costs—because the added expenses of transportation and middlemen's profits are eliminated by local grinding and mixing.

SHUR-GAIN FEED SERVICE gives you value for every dollar spent—for SHUR-GAIN feeds are BALANCED. And Balanced Feeding means a full supply of high quality protein, plentiful essential minerals, and fortification with all the required vitamins. Thus balanced feeds are much more efficient than others.

Through SHUR-GAIN FEED SERVICE, the final cost of balanced rations becomes so very little higher than the average value of grain that the wisdom of balanced feeding is obvious.

Get One-Half More Jam or Jelly from the Same Amount of Fruit ... use CERTO

YOU'LL find it so profitable and convenient this season to make your jams and jellies with Certo. This way you'll get up to one-half more jam or jelly than you will if you use old-fashioned jam and jelly making methods. And you'll get simply lovely jam or jelly—firmer, more sparkling and better tasting.

There are other important wartime reasons, too, for using Certo. It's so much quicker, so easy that even beginners find it very easy to use.

Certo Makes Fruit Go Further—Saves Your Time and Energy

SUCH A VERY SHORT BOIL—It's quite astonishing how Certo cuts down boiling time. Certo jams need only a one to two-minute full, rolling boil ... Certo jellies only a half-minute to a minute. No long, tedious, boiling and stirring. You economize on time, on effort and on fuel.

50% MORE JAM OR JELLY—During this very short boil practically no fruit juice boils off in steam as it does when you use the old long boil. The saving is so great that you get an increase of about 50%—or one-half more—jam or jelly without any increase in the amount of fruit you use.

RETAINS NATURAL TASTE AND COLOUR—Long boiling spoils the natural fruit taste and dulls the natural colour. But boiling time with Certo is so very short it cannot spoil either taste or colour. The luscious taste and lovely colour of the fresh fruit are both retained in Certo jams and jellies.

ENDS GUESSWORK—You end guesswork when you make jams or jellies the Certo way. You get easy-to-follow recipes that give exact quantities and timing—full directions for every step. Different fruits need different handling. Follow exactly the Certo recipe for the fruit you are using and you'll get splendid results.

WHAT CERTO IS

Certo is fruit pectin—the natural gelling substance in fruit—extracted from fruit in which it is most plentiful. It allows you to make jam or jelly from fully ripe fruit instead of the under-ripe fruit called for in old-fashioned recipes.

Look for Book of 72 Tested Recipes under the label of every Certo bottle.

A pound of jam or jelly made the Certo way contains no more sugar than a pound made the old long-boil way.

The local kids went on the offensive at Stuart Scott school grounds Thursday to defeat the Aurora Bldgels 3-3. The "Kindergarten" of baseball is out to prove to Coach Charlie VanZant that they have their eyes on the Ontario play-offs.

"Moss Doane," former Newmarket softballer, caught the eye of Dominion day spectators at the fair grounds with his fielding for York Mills. Moss still shows the solid coaching he received from big Alex. Webster back in 1933 and 39. She plays a steady game of ball and has a fair batting average.

Newmarket defeated Aurora Tuesday night when two rinks skippered by Charlie Willis and Percy Kling went down from town to compete for the Eckhardt Trophy. Newmarket will play the winners of the Agincourt-Richmond Hill tilt.

Wednesday night three rinks went again to Aurora for that club's annual tournament. The rink of Charlie Willis, Stanley James and Vaughan Goring were high for one. The other two rinks were skippered by Fred Chantler and Bert Budd.

Wednesday, July 12, is the date of the Office Specialty Trophy tournament which will be played on the Newmarket green.

Dorothy Dales, who holds down the left field for the town softballers, is leaving to join the navy July 11. We wish all success to Dorothy in her new undertaking.
